Hochschule Niederrhein
University of Applied Sciences

German Language Requirements (B2)

To be admitted to a German-taught degree programme at the HSNR, applicants are required to prove their German language proficiency.

For the following bachelor degree programmes German language skills on level B2 CEF suffice:

- BA Chemical Engineering
- BA Chemistry and Biotechnology
- BA Communication Design
- MA Design
- BA Process Engineering
- BA Product- and Object Design

HSNR accepts the following language certificates:

- Test DaF (Test Deutsch als Fremdsprache) at least level 3 in every unit
- Deutsche Sprachprüfung für den Hochschulzugang (DSH 1)
- telc Deutsch B2
- Goethe Zertifikat B2
- B2-certificate of attendance - after having successfully completed HSNR‘s German preparatory language course for university studies

Possible test institutes:

- www.testdaf.de
- www.dsh-termin.de
- www.telc.net

Stand: 10.2026